

Jason Luckerhoff

Full professor in communication at UQTR, Dr. Jason Luckerhoff has also carried out consulting mandates for ministries in Quebec, Ontario and Canada, for Crown corporations, non-profit organizations and private companies. He holds a certificate in law, a bachelor's and master's degree in communication, a doctorate in communication and education and a Diploma of Higher Specialized Studies (DESS) in public administration. He studied strategic management at HEC Montréal Executive Education and strategic planning at McGill University Executive Institute. Dr. Luckerhoff was appointed on secondment for one year (2019-2020) to the Université de l'Ontario français (UOF, Toronto) as Vice-President, Program and Knowledge Development and has been Department Section Head and Director of Graduate Studies in communication at UQTR. He is also former Vice-President of the Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation and President of the Pierre Elliott Trudeau Foundation Alumni Network. The Foundation awards some of Canada's most prestigious doctoral scholarships and fellowships. Dr. Luckerhoff was a member of the Advisory Committee on the Canadian Museum for Human Rights, and has sat on the Board of Directors of many cultural organizations. He served on the French Language University Planning Board, which submitted its report including a business plan in June 2017.

jason@luckerhoff.com · 819.386.1122